March 2026 Newsletter

Welcome 2026

We didn't have much of a winter but hopefully spring will arrive as scheduled!
We have been busy planning our events for 2026.

Canna Dividing Demonstration

Our first event is coming up on Saturday, March 7th. Have you ever wondered what to do with the beautiful cannas at the end of the season? This meeting will give you an up close and personal answer to that question.

We will meet at Hudson Gardens and help them with pots of cannas that have been stored in a cool area over the winter. We will un-pot them, find the viable tubers, and re-plant them for Hudson Gardens' displays for this year. There will be several knowledgeable CWGS members to answer questions. Come to watch or dive in to help. You'll get dirty, plan accordingly.

The demonstration starts at 9:30 am at the greenhouse which is located south of the vegetable and herb gardens.

This demonstration is free, please RSVP through Hudson Gardens at:

That way, if there is inclement weather and we need to cancel, you can be notified.

Tour of New York Gardens by Tamara Kilbane

A few of our members attended the International Water Garden Society symposium last summer. We had special tours of several of the botanic gardens in the New York area. Tamara will guide us through what we saw while we were there. If you've seen any of Tamara's photos in the past, you know she really knows how to capture things.

This virtual tour will be on Sunday, March 8th from 3:00 pm - 5:00 pm. We will be meeting in Classroom 2 in the Freyer-Newman Center within the Denver Botanic Gardens.

New Website Update

One big thing we have been working on is the website. We needed to change platforms, so we decided to re-do it. Check it out at <https://colowatergardensociety.org/>. I think you will like the look.

If you have any feedback, please reach out to me at:

vicki.aber@colowatergardensociety.org

While you are there, you can renew your membership. That wasn't working for a little bit, so if you had problems, it should be working now.

Coming Events

In April, we will have a talk on choosing and caring for pumps on Sunday, April 13th, 5:00 pm - 8:30 pm, Gates Hall, Denver Botanic Gardens.

We will have two plant swaps this year since that is such a popular event - one will be on May 2nd, the other on July 19th.

Of course, there will be the plant sale on June 7th. We are also planning for a pond tour on August 1st. If you would like to have your pond featured please email me at:
